Our Core Principles

1. The humanitarian imperative comes first – the right to give and receive aid.
2. Assistance is given regardless of the race, creed or nationality of the recipients and without adverse distinction of any kind. Assistance priorities are calculated on the basis of need alone.
3. Our support for families will not be used to further a particular political or religious standpoint.
4. We shall endeavor not to act as instruments of government policy.
5. We shall respect culture and custom.
6. We shall attempt to build our food support response on local capacities.
7. Ways shall be found to involve program beneficiaries in the management of the Siem Reap Food Bank.
8. We must strive to reduce future vulnerabilities to food insecurity, as well as meeting immediate basic needs.
9. We hold ourselves accountable to both those we seek to assist and those from whom we accept resources.
10. In our information, publicity and advertising activities, we shall recognize our beneficiaries as dignified human beings, not hopeless objects.
